2026 Sponsorship Opportunities

ANCDS Annual Educational & Scientific Meeting

November 18, 2026 | Indianapolis, IN

Motor Speech Disorders Across the Lifespan
From Foundational Perspectives to Practice Innovations

Why Sponsor ANCDS?

Connect with a specialized professional community advancing care, research, and education in neurologic communication disorders.

Sponsoring the ANCDS Annual Scientific Meeting gives your organization visibility among professionals who are directly involved in the assessment, treatment, education, and research of neurologic communication disorders.

ANCDS members include researchers, clinicians, and students across academic, clinical, and healthcare industry settings. The meeting also attracts non-member attendees from related clinical, healthcare, and scientific fields.

Your sponsorship helps ANCDS provide accessible, high-quality continuing education while supporting a professional community dedicated to improving care and outcomes for people with neurologic communication disorders affecting speech, language, and/or cognition.
